Paul Atterbury, Ellen Paul Denker, Maureen Batkin : Miller's Twentieth-Century Ceramics: A Collector's Guide to British and North American Factory-Produced Ceramics (Mitchell Beazley Antiques Collectables) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Miller's Twentieth-Century Ceramics: A Collector's Guide to British and North American Factory-Produced Ceramics (Mitchell Beazley Antiques Collectables):

What makes twentieth-century ceramics so appealing? They're readily available, generally affordable, and stylistically suited to the contemporary home. This popular guide is the first to cover a wide range of these modern-day British and North American ceramics factories in detail. It explores over 200 manufacturers, covering pre-war designers, as well as the 1950s and 1960s—and it now has even been brought right up to date with revised prices and a new chapter on recent collectables.
